MARIN
MARIN COUNTY • PINOT NOIR
2017

VINEYARD CHARACTER

2017 was another low yielding season in the cool climate of Marin County, with beautiful ripening and flavor development. This wine is sourced from a small, dry farmed vineyard on rolling hills in an area of Marin that has been home to cattle and dairies for the last century. Today there are small vineyard sites scattered across Marin that are producing very interesting and distinct fruit.

TASTING NOTES

Pure aromas of red cherries, berries, leather and Asian spice notes are supported by bright flavors of cherry cola, pomegranate and an earthy mid palate. Velvety, fine grained tannins complement a long finish with subtle lavender and wild strawberry nuances.
